Bharosa facilitates child victim to rebuild her life after trauma and to get justice....

A 9 year old child, who was sexually abused approached Bharosa on 21-12-2016 from Bowenpally PS, after the case under POCSO Act, 2012 was registered in order to provide support to the child.

She was studying in 4th standard when the incident happened. The child was accompanied by her parents. The child was in severe trauma. She was dull and did not want to interact with anybody. She had crying spells and mood swings. Her mother informed that she was experiencing night mares, and bed wetting.

Mother also reported that client lost interest in school and studies. The child was also experiencing loss of appetite, partial hallucinations and extreme fear to be alone.

The psychologist in Bharosa through psychological first aid made the client comfortable and established rapport. Interaction with revealed that mother was unable to pay much attention to the client due to the ill health of her younger brother.

Both parents are working and therefore providing care after school was also a major problem. Parents were counselled on parenting skills and other measures to be taken after such traumatic incidents, including change of environment. A multi- modality approach was taken including CBT, narrative and play therapy to help the child overcome the trauma.

The parents and child also discussed their case with members of CWC in the presence of the bharosa counsellor. The child and parents agreed to take admission in a residential school where the child is currently studying.

Parents were informed about the compensation that the child can receive and all the necessary documents were collected and forwarded to the Collector's office for the dispensation of compensation. An initial amount of 25000/ was released as per the GO.

The child and family were provided legal and other support during the Court proceedings. Legal support Officer from Bharosa helped and briefed them to face the court proceedings. Finally after the trial, the accused has been now sentenced to 10 years imprisonment.

After the judgement, as the case is convicted, as per the GO the child has now received full compensation of 1 lakh.
