MO. OF THE OFFENDER

The offenders obtain several Sim cards and create Paytm accounts for the same. They will start posting the ads in OLX/ QUICKR on pretext of selling Mobile Phones, Cars and Electronic goods at lesser prices. Whenever any person shows interest to buy those they will send fake army identity cards and Army photos to gain the confidence of the victim that the person who posted the ad was an army person and the victim wishes to continue the transaction with that person. Afterwards they will induce the victim that the item which was posted is for Urgent sale and several persons are shown interest, and then insist to transfer the money as advance. When the victim transfers the advance amount the fraudster will then send a fake courier receipt that he is sending goods through Courier and asks to deposit some more amounts. Later the same fraudster Contacts the victim with other Mobile number personating as delivery boy and convinces the victim that he is nearby his residence and insist to transfer the remaining amount, GST and excess amount saying that all these are refundable. Mostly the transactions happen through paytm and the name associated with name as name ending with army and Profile photo as person wearing Army Uniform and pictures of Army areas and colleagues with Army Uniform. This modus operandi chosen by fraudster is mainly to deceive victims in the name of Army as general public is of the notation that they are transacting with a genuine Army person which is wrong.

In this regard the general public is advised to not to believe such Unrealistic offers regarding sale of such cars, Mobile Phones and other electronic devices which were spreading at Quiclr/ OIX and in other forms of Internet and never deposit money without physical verification and delivery of the item.
